Crowds Burst Records In Parade, Horse Show

BEST IN BEARDS — This quartet of beard growers was named champions in their classes Thursday by out-of-town judges. From left they are: Wayne Wieser, best moustache; Guss Elley, best goatee; Dr. Joe R. Parker, best full beard; and (top center) W. E. Obermiller, best all-around beard. The beard titlists headed a group of beard growers who had been grooming their face whiskers for the past three months. It was a part of Cameron's Western Week that drew record crowds for the horse show parade and horse show.

Ben A-Burlington Studying Needs For Water System

About 40 residents of Burlington and Ben Arnold Thursday night discussed building a water system to serve the two North Milam communities.

Representatives from the Farmers Home Administration outlined methods of organizing a community water corporation. A special representative on water development from the state FHA showed a preliminary outline of the area, showing adequate population support for operation.

Walter G. Marek, a spokesman for the group, said a temporary steering committee was organized prior to the meeting. They are: The Rev. O'Regan, the Rev. Goertz, Phil Krause, Clarence Wolfe, Ben Fox, Herman Dorner and Marek, all of Burlington and the Rev. Gerald Cobb, of Ben Arnold.

Marek said the group voted to consult other engineers for opinions on availability of water, cost and site of drilling wells.

FHA spokesmen indicated that approximate cost to each subscriber to the area association would be about $150 per share in the organization and a minimum monthly water bill of $5 to $6, Marek said.

He noted that support is available through FHA financing. And numerous citizens of the area have expressed interest in the project, Marek pointed out.

He said that a questionnaire will be sent to each resident of the area for consideration. The contacts will follow completion of preliminary studies on cost of the operation.

Drilling the well will be on a guaranteed basis, he said, with compensation for successful well completion.

Estimates Soar On Attendance In Final Events

Western Week set some attendance records at the Cameron Saddle Club Horse Show and parade over the weekend and set Central Texas in wonder.

Estimates of one veteran parademan set the parade crowd total at 12,500 and horse show officials estimated 3,500 to 4,000 crowded Wilson - Ledbetter Park Friday night and Saturday.

The king - size crowd at W—L Park Friday night taxed parking facilities and bleachers and standing room were filled with onlookers.

Judges said it was the largest crowd seen at a Central Texas horse show. Saddle Club and Chamber officials joined in extending their appreciation to all the people and businesses in Cameron who made the week of events a success.

The parade wound its traditional path through downtown Cameron under bunting put up by Cameron Jaycee workers. The YHS band floats, new cars, saddle clubs from a number of cities and the host Cameron Club, wagons and anitque cars were in the parade.

A shoot - out Thursday attracted wide interest and several hundred people joined in a community sing at the courthouse square Wednesday night, July 13.

Baptist To Hold Last Services In Old Church

Sunday will be the final Sunday for members of the First Baptist Church of Cameron to meet in their old sanctuary.

This building, constructed in June 1896, has been a landmark in Milam County for 64 years. Pastor of the church at the time it was built was L. R. Scarborough. The day the building was dedicated was a memorable one. On that day L . R. Scarborough was ordained as the pastor, being examined by Dr. J. B. Gambrel and hearing the dedication sermon preached by Dr. George W. Truett.

The contract for the new building has been awarded to the Coffield Construction Company of Rockdale along with a contract to tear down the old building given to East First Used Lumber Yard of Austin. Cost of the new sanctuary is estimated at $150,000.

Rev. Aubrey F. Russell, pastor of the church for the last nine years, announced that morning services will be held in the Milam Theatre until the completion of the new structure which will be on the same site as the old building.

Bank Announces Expansion Plans

The Citizens National Bank has announced plans for construction of a drive - in bank and expansion of executive offices into an adjacent building, now occupied by McIntosh Dept. Store.

Plans for the drive - in facilities became public Tuesday night when officers of the bank requested an easement along city property to install an underground pneumatic tube from the new building to the presen tbank. The City Council granted the easement.

Oxsheer Smith, president of the bank, said the drive - in bank will be constructed on the 90x108 foot lot formerly the Mamie A. Hefley lot at the corner of Travis and Main Streets in downtown Cameron.

Starting date for construction will be August 15 after bids are let and completion of the masonry structure will be in 60 working days.

Plans for the drive - in bank include two tellers windows with drive - in driveways to both windows and customer parking space for nine cars. The pneumatic tubes will be installed underground to connect the tellers with the main bank building.

Native trees at the drive - in site will be maintained.

Additional offices will be added in the building next door to the main bank, now occupied by McIntosh's. The department store will move into the former Cameron Theatre building.

A section of the wall will be cut out to connect the new office wing of the bank. Space will be built for loan officers, private offices and a directors' meeting room. The front of the McIntosh Building will be enclosed and made part of the bank.

Smith said the expansion program is being carried out during the bank's 60th annivesary year.

The Citizens National Bank has expanded or rebuilt three times since its founding in 1900. The present bank was remodeled in 1950 and expanded its bookkeeping department in 1955. The present building was constructed in 1929.

Architect of the drive - in facilities is W. R. Dede Matthews, of Bryan.

The City Council Tuesday night discussed prospects for improving maintenance of Cameron's Oak Hill Cemetery heard reports on street and drainage progress.

Mayor Coleman Duncum appointed a committee of Councilmen Richard Moseley and John A. Smith to outline a plan to improve the general appearance of the city cemetery in Southeast Cameron.

Duncum said that city workmen are cleaning and grading culverts, but that a large program of drainage improvement, following a master plan approach, was due to begin later.

10 Concerns Bid On Hospital Plan

Ten bids ranging from $313,000 to about $400,000 were opened Friday at fund headquarters for the proposed Newton Memorial Hospital.

Officials listed bids opened from the following: Edwin Broecker, R. B. Butler, Inc., Chappel Hill Construction Co., Brenham, Coffield Construction Co., A. P. Kasch & Sons, McClellan Construction Co., Martin B. Stemands, Inc., Stokes Construction Co., and Southern Engineering & Construction Co.

Officials said that all bids, including alternate bids, exceeded cost expectations and bidders will be asked to resubmit bids to bring down total building cost to allow funds for purchase of some new equipment for the hospital.

Meanwhile, officials appealed for final contributions to bring Cameron's quota upto the $50,000 goal. Donations and pledges, regardless of size, are appreciated, officials added.

One spokesman said a combination of pledges from a $1000 pledge two $500 pledges and a combination of others ranging from $10 to $250 would put the goal over the top.

Plans call for closing the fund drive headquarters in about one week.

The architect is scheduled to hold a conference with bidders to seek modifications of plans for a lower bid base on the one-floor, four - wing structure, a spokesman said.

Th hospital fund drive has about $45,100 in contributions and pledges from about 200 contributors, including businesses and individuals.

CLASSIC COWBOYS — The "Streets of Cameron" almost became synonomous with that Western song "The Streets of Laredo" during Western Week. "Dead men" littered the streets. They even hung from trees. It was part of Cameron's re - enactment of the Old West for Central Texas onlookers . At right, badman Vick Hannon loses his chaps as he dangles on the end of a rope, true Western style. He had been "convicted" of horse stealin' by a rump jury . The center picture finds badman Valter White a victim of the "Shootout at OK Corral." And at left, Buddy Shipp and John Biansit, blast at the enemy on the other end of the block. It was realistic right down to carrying the cadavres off the street. —Staffoto

Jay Naman, Texas hog marceting official, commenting on the recent hog meeting had this to say "Our group was delighted with the excellent attendance and enthusiastic response from our meeting there Monday night. We certainly appreciate the effort the folks there made to get a large group out. I know that Henry Richter and others will carry out their intentions to get something started in the way of a shipping point in that area.

"We have ordered a carcass tatoo set for use of any group which wants to try a shipment with us, and we should have this available the end of this week or the first of next. Please tell the Milam County group that when they are ready, I'll get the tatoo machine to them, and give them some help tatooing their first load of hogs. Thanks for the fine cooperation." Jay Manan.

Die back in arborvitae (cedars) is noticable throughout the county. The county Extension office recently sent a plant to the plant pathgnosis. Reports show the plants had gnosis. Reports show the plans had some "sooty mold", some insect damage and likely a blight causing tle die back. Recommendations include prune off and burn dying branches, spray with a fungicide at 2 week intervals. The fungicide spray would have been more effective if applied early in the spring to control die back.

The sooty mold is a dark residue material caused by honey dew given off by aphids. The honey dew is ideal for the development of the mold. To prevent sooty mold, control aphids to prevent the honey dew conditions. Aphids are easily controlled by sprayini with a Malathion spray at the rate of two teaspoons of Malathion to one gallon of water. These treatments should be religiously practiced during hte spring months.

Chlorophyll Fills Stockman's Pocket With Greenbacks

COLLEGE STATION — The green in grass means greenbacks in the livestork producer's pocket. Green color in plants is caused by the presence of chlorophyll, the quantity of which is an index to the amount of carotene present. Carotene, which is formed only in in plants, is an important source of vitamin A, an indispensable ingredient in beef production. Loss of green color in hays or fodders means that a large percent of the carotene is lost.

If cattl e are not provided with green forage or a vitamin A fortified ration, vitamin A deficiency will occur. This deficiency is characterized by night blindness, watery eyes, swollen joints, rapid brcathing, a staggering gait and a general loss of vigor.

If the condition is not remedied, the cattle will become unmarketable and eventually will die. Time required for cattle to become deficient varies. Young animals, which have not had enough time to store up a supply, become deficient faster than older animals.

A suffieient supply of vitamins, A, C, D, E, K and the B vitamins is as necessary for normal growth and reproduction as proteins, carbohydrates, fats and minerals. Vitamins A, D and E are normally found in natural feeds, and vitamins C, K and the B vitamins are produced inside the body. animal husbandman for the Texas A & M College System, has prepared an interesting and informative publication in which "Vitamins For Beef Cattle" are discussed.

Shrinkage Affects Profits

Cattle shrinkage can cut down profits or, in some cases, can even mean the difference between profit or loss. Handle cattle to keep shrinkage at a minimum, advises Lloyd Bergsma, extension livestock marketing specialist.

Deep Plow Shows Root Rot

Deep plowing, 10 to 14 inches or more, followed by at least two weeks of hot dry weather can reduce cotton root rot to as low as two percent or less the following year, says Extension Pathologist Harlan Smith.

Farmers Suffer High Accident Rate, Safety Council Says

COLLEGE STATION — Farm people have a slightly higher percentage of fatal accidents than do other population groups, reports the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The rate of accidental deaths from work and recreational activities on farms is increasing slightly each year, as is the death rates associated with machinery, drownings, firearms and electricity. Accidental deaths due to animals, falls, lightning and burns are decreasing, however.

According to a recent survey by the National Safety Council, Texas ranks in the top ten states in the number of deaths caused from Drownings, firearms, burns and electricity. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council points out that a little care and caution on the part of rural dwellers could help remove Texas from these unpopular lists.

During the week of July 24, an intensive safety campaign will be conducted in Texas, and all over the nation. The Texas Council urges all rural residents to participate in the activities of National Farm Safety Week — not only for that week, but for the entire year.

"A little bit of caution could prevent a lot of grief," reminds the Texas Council.

National Farm Safety Week will be observed July 24 - 30. This reminder from the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council.Don't forget that a farm accident can happen to you. They happen every day and your attitude and thinking can keep your name off the casualty list.

Milam County Crop Report

Recent Rains Are Big Boost To Crops

COLLEGE STATION — Two important factors point toward higher potential profits for commercial hog producers during the months ahead. They are, according to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, more favorable prices for pork and abundant supplies of grain.

Texas hog raisers reduced their spring pig crop 20 percent below that for 1959, due to slim profits through last fall and winter. Spring pig output for the sation was down 16 per cent, Bates said.

Breeding intentions of Texas producers reflect a 5 percent cut in fall farrowings compared with 1959, while the drop nationally is estimated at near 4 percent. So, Bates points out, fewer animals will be moving to market through the spring of 1961 if farmers carry out their earlier intentions.

But even with higher prices and ample grain supplies, higher net profits are not assured, Bates says. Important management considerations must be met in pork production as in other livestock operations, and he lists well-planned facilities which minimize labor needs and maximize animal comfort; a careful program of sanitation to control losses from diseases and parasites; the use of breeding stock which will produce the favored lean cuts; and good production records on the operation as among the more important.

It has often been said that a farmer must be business - like in his operations. Today, more than ever, he should know how his business is doing. Adequate records can aid the hog producer in planning improvements which will boost profits. It's no time to be farming by guess, Bates adds.

Help and guidance on management practices including record keeping is available from local county agents. Bates suggests a visit with him.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

It was a drizzling, gloomy day and a windshield, smudged with mud whenever another car passed, made driving a task. As I pulled into a service station, the thought arose: Here is a man who is sheltered from the weather and safe from the hazards of the highway. The proprietor, as he filled the gas tank, asked, "Do you drive around over the State a good deal in your work?"

"Yes," I replied.

He continued, "I just stay here by the road and watch others go by. You have a job that is real living."

People who don't make speeches think that it is a simple matter for an experienced speaker to make one.

How mistaken this idea is! In the space of 11 months, this chronicler has made eight addresses in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. On an average, I use 20 jokes in a speech -- that's about one per minute. For fear that someone at one of the meetings will be present at a later one, eight completely different speeches were made. This required about 160 stories and that is about equal, in words, to on-third of the book, I Give You Texas."

And it's not as simple even as that. You can't use just any stories; they have to have a purpose, an idea to emphasize and they must be fitted into a pattern; so, with the planning, the selection of material, going through it to get it in hand and the physical and mental effort of actual delivery -- besides the worry as to whether the remarks will flop -- this all adds up to a serious undertaking, even if it is a humorous speech.

Waco has a "midget market." Sappy Sam says, "I don't think Waco would have enough midgets to support a market."

A sign on a little store in Austin, "Yep, we're open."

League Officials Beat 20-11 By All-Star Team

The youngsters turned the tables on the old folks this week at Cameron Field as an all-star squad made up of Babe Ruth and American Legion players topped a team of league officials, 20-11.

Bobby Griswold and Carol Fikes led a parade of sluggers that pounded out 25 basehits. Griswold had a field day going 6 for 6 and Fikes bingled 3 times and scored 4 runs. Ed Lierman slammed a homerun in the 4th inning for the winners.

Three homeruns highlighted the losers performance. Bill Bates knocked two out of the park, one in the 3rd and 5th innings. Buck Wilkenson accounted for a 3rd homer in the final frame.

Independence With Strife . . .

Independence, wrought with strife, has come to the Congo, once the Belgian colony of that Western European nation.

Native leaders have been unable to maintain control of Congo troops after Belgians stepped out of the driver's seat.

And even now, one province of the new nation, Katanga, has called for anti-Communist organization against claimed Red-instigated Congo revolt.

In fact, the premier of Katanga, has arrested officials of the new Congo native government.

Moise Tshombe, the Katanga Province leader, has disclaimed any connection with the new regime. He and Belgian officials say that Communists are behind the Patrice Lumumba regime.

The King of Belgium came to Leopoldville only weeks ago to announce the independence of the Congo. And then the rioting, pillaging and killing began.

Europeans have been attacked by Congo troops, apparently beyond anyone's control. A UN task force of mediators has gone into the country.

These developments only point up the difficulties of granting independence to people who may not yet be ready for self-rule.

Most unfortunate part of the whole situation is the infiltration of Communist influence, regardless of degree. It suggests that any nation, awaiting independence so long sought after, faces the prospect of settling with Communist minorities before going about the task of building a nation.

Such influence probably developed in Castro's coup d'etat in 1959. Cuban revolutionaries found Communist interests in their midst, like it or not.

And if the new nation is unable to stabilize its power, Communist minority influence may become domination. The clamor for freedom may be more the machinations of Communist revolutionaries than the immediate demands of many nations-to-be.

These complications recalled the difficulties of the American Revolution and the catastrophes that followed.

West Week, Show Rate Raves

The Western Week parade and Cameron Saddle Club Horse Show culminated in the largest attendance in the history of both events.

In fact, attendance at all events in Western Week exceeded good turnouts last year.

The parade attracted upwards to 12,500 people, according to official estimates. About 3,500 people attended the Friday night horse show opening and thousands more attended Saturday events in Wilson-Ledbetter Park.

These figures are a tribute to the hard work and prior planning of the Saddle Club and Chamber workers.

The old adage, "nothing succeeds like success," certainly applie dhere. Western Week, started last year to boost the already outstanding horse show, met favorable response the first time out.

Parade attendance reflected about a 20 percent increase. Turnout at the horse show, equipped this year with some bleachers, was among the largest in the history of Central Texas horse shows.

These facts are the kind of return we like to report on community and civic efforts. They give justification to community effort on many worthwhile projects, where singular effort may not quite equal that of wider co-operation.

There is little question that Cameron has set another example in successful small city achievements. Other communities of equal size are beginning to wonder how it can be done in their towns . . . not just a Western Week, but a range of recent Cameron successes.

Review the record, if you will: A combined Mall-Livestock Show, an outstanding poultry show, Western Week, a Christmas parade and other highly successful community projects.

Such successes are contagious to other towns and to people throughout Milam County. Capture their imagination and see their sincere response in numerous ways.

It takes promotion on a wide scope to hold that interest, successful development of outstanding events like the Cameron Horse Show and Western Week.

Budget Balancing Is Big Problem

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Although budget balancing is the most discussed of the problems facing the next Legislature, many lawmakers expect redistricting wrangles may raise more blood pressure.

Legislature is required by the Constitution to re-define legislative districts after each federal census. It used to put off this troublesome task, but a 1948 law provides that if it fails to act in the first session after a census, a Legislature Redistricting Board shall take over.

This insures, as it did in 1951, that the Legislature will redistrict — somehow, some way.

Battle will be between big city delegations who will demand more representation in line with their swelling populations and rural members who will try to hold on to as much as they can.

In their election campaign, many representatives promised their constituents they'd be in there pitching for the home area. Members from growth areas said they'd go after extra representatives, state senators and congressmen.

A rural legislator told his people, "At least twelve rural districts will disappear in the next redistricting. I certainly do not want this district included in that twelve."

Incumbent cited their experience as an asset. Personal feeling often enters into redistricing, and lawmakers are notably reluctant to "squeeze out" a popular and respected senior colleague by erosing his district.

HOME INSURANCE CUT

Beginning August 1, premiums rates on certain types of homeowner's insurance policies will be cut 10 per cent.

State Insurance Board announced the new lower rates would apply to the "home owners package" policies which account for about 80 per cent of the home coverage sold in Texas.

Reductions were made possible beiause insurance companies have had a relatively low loss ratio on the package policies, first introduced about three years ago.

CREDIT RATE EYED

Board of Insurance also is considering a further lowering of credit insurance rates.

Many loan companies require borrowers to take out insurance payable to the loan company in case something happens to the borrower before he repays.

Two years ago the Board cut in half the rates that could be charged for credit insurance. It was charged that loan companies were making excessive profits on loans through the insurance.

Board says that even now rates seem high, with losses running 27 per cent of premiums paid in. If losses run less than 50 per cent of the premiums, rates are considered too high.

NO ROAD PROBLEM

Stiffened federal road inspections pose no problem to Texas, says State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer.

No federal standards are no tougher than those Texas has instituted all along.

Scandals stemming from misuse of federal road building money in other states has caused the Bureau of Public Roads to tighten its inspection requirements. Greer said the new federal approach will necessitate no change in Texas procedures.

Texans who have been motoring cross - country during their summer vacations will not find this hard to believe. So noticeably superior are Texas roads to those of surrounding state that returning Texans usually give a sigh of relief when they cross the state line.

Housewives Deprive Household Workers Of Social Security

Many housewives may be depriving their household workers of social security protection, according to a statement issued by Maurice M. Chastain, manager of the Social Security district office in Temple.

"Workers' earnings are credited to their social security account from reports of their employers, and most of the employers," Chastain said, "faithfully report these earning year after year." Some household employers who only recently hired household help may not realize their responsibility, and their employees, in particular, should make sure they are protected.

"Postcard forms for checking your account with social security are available at all social security offies and should be used at least every three years by all workers," added Chastain.

If statements returned by social security show that your earnings are not posted to your record, steps will be taken to correct the omission and make sure that your employers report properly.

"Most people need many years of social security credit to qualify for benefits," Chastain said, adding, "It's your social security, make sure you are protected."

Don't criticize the work of others unless you want to do the work of others.

Recruit Chairmen Are Appointed

Mrs. J. B. Jansky and B. F. Cook of Rockdale, representing the Milam county Red Cross blood program, worked last Thursday and Friday on blood program recruitment in some of the rural areas of Mflam county.

Recruitment chairmen were appointed in the Milano - Gause area and also in the Thorndale - San Gabriel area.

Miss Betty Jo Lanford, home service worker for the county chapter, said that during the past week she has handled eight inquiries, eight long distance calls, two death messages, two emergency leave requests, and also assisted servicemen in getting overseas deferment and reassignment.

She also made a report to the Veterans Administration on a minor's allotment check and made a loan to a serviceman's wife who needed help.

50 Hear Analysis Of Hog Marketing

Some 50 people attended the swine marketing meeting held Monday night at the Vocational Agriculture building in Cameron.

Jay Naman, Valley Mills hog producer and chairman of the Texas Hog Marketing Association, was principal speaker.

Naman pointed out that producers have done a "good job of developing a real meat type hog that furnishes attractive lean meat cuts for tht housewife at the meat counter and the aim of the marketing association is to help do a better job of mrketing this quality product.

The initial efforts were more of an experiment. A packing company agreed to pay $1 above the local top market. This plan was not entirely satisfactory.

Another packing company agreed to work with the association by allowing a grader to be made available for grading the hogs on a dressed carcass basis. An ex-meat grader was contacted and agreed to serve at the plant one day a week to be paid by the association.

Briefly, the producers assemble their hogs on Thursday night in Waco whese they ase tatooed with a number, weighed, and a record sheet is set up for each producer. Because of the hot weather, the hogs are sent by truck to Dallas better job of marketing this qual- company each lot of hogs. Hogs are weighed hot and a 3 per cent paper shrink is made on the record sheet. The hogs are butchered on Friday and the carcass is hung up to chill until Monday.

The grader goes in on Monday and grades all of the dressed carcasses on a basis of No. 1, 2, and 3 grades. Length of carcass and backfat thickness are prime factors in determining the grade. Presently, this market is running 1.00 to $1.50 above top hog prices paid at the local market at Waco.

Naman pointed out that a desirable arrangement would be a local assembling place where hogs could be shipped direct from Cameron to the Dallas market. At present, a charge of 30 cents per animal is charged for tatooing, weighing and records, a charge of 26 cents per 100 weight for hauling from Waco to Dallas.

The association is shipping an average of 70 to 100 hogs per week at the present time. The company would like to have 900 hogs per week. The quality market is unlimited.

What should the country swing producers do? First, they should fully understand the program. How could more information be obtained? Local producers iould assemble a group of hogs and market them with the Waco group on a Thursday night. The following Monday morning, the group should go in cars to the plant and watch the grader grade their hogs. Most valuable information could be obtained in this mannre.

Swine producers, feed company representatives, vo-ag teachers and guests attending the meeting in addition to the Milam County group were from Lexington, Temple and Marlin.

Others assisting Naman with the program were Ralph Russell, agricultural representative of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, Tom Hatter, swine producer from McLennan County and Ruvelle Bohne, swine producer from Crawford in McLennan county.

The meeting was sponsored by the Milam county swine committee, feed company representatives and the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. Henry Richter, local swine breeder, is chairman of the Milam County swine committee.

Draft Board Quota Is 359 For August

AUSTIN — The state quota for Texas draft boards in August calls for 359 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The August call is the state's share of a national quota of 7,000 men, all for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced pre - induction physical and mental examinations for approximately 900 men in August. These men return home after being examined at examining stations.

Local board quotas for the August call already have been completed and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, 1960, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Castro's Selling Sugar To The Russians Will Hhave Its Drawbacks

Dear editar:

I heard a man in town say yesterday he'll be glad when the national political conventions are over so he can get down to work, and all I've got to say is a man who has to depend on something held only once every four years to stop him from working, just ain't trying very hard to stop working.

But what I started out to say is something entirely different. According to a newspaper I read one night last week while somebody on T. V. I never heard of was seconding the nomination of somebody else I never heard of for President, although I guess I should have heard of him as he said he was the most fearless leader who ever lived. I forget in which state, at any rate, according to this newspaper, Castro over in Cuba, who has been taking over American plants over there right and left, is going to get even with the United States for cutting down on the Cuban sugar quota by selling Cuba's sugar to Russia. Well, it's not exactly a sale, he's going to do some trading with Mr. Khruschev.

It's not any of my business, but I'm afraid Senor Castro is going to find trading with Mr. Khruschev has its drawbacks.

Russia may take all his sugar, but it won't stop here. Before long, it'll take over all his cane fields too.

Then it will divide up the cane fields among the peons, and then a little later divide up the peons among tht Communist bosses. They'll be sweetening their coffee with wild honey , until Russia gets around to taking their coffee too.

Russian generosity knows no bounds, and if Castro comes out of this Communist dickering with his beard left, he'll be lucky.

Winning a revolution is sort of like winning the Presidency. Campaigning is a hard and glamorous job, but after you win, your troubles have just begun. Ain't nothing glamorous about running a country on tax money in this atomic age with men like Khurschev hanging around setting the dogs to barking, it's the hardest job on earth. it's even harder than running this Johnson grass farm, and I found out years ago that was too much for me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS

GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting —"at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.
